With Shelley Robert's energetic arrival and her welcome new ideas, Uni students and staff experienced new dimensions of Uni education. The food cart filled our stomachs and emptied our pockets. Between heaters, fans and the student lounge's new stereo and TV, we progressed into new levels of school life. The onset of advisory periods shortened classes on Wednesday and broke the monotony of the usual intense curriculum. This year not only changed our academic and physical environment, but also altered our outlook on life.

A New Dimension

UNIVERSITY H.S. LIBRARY

Students departed for Rome and Russia to experience cultural diversity, and in return, Uni hosted Russian students. School plays Harvey and A Man With A Pizza introduced 6 foot rabbits and exotic male dancers to the faculty and students. Spirit Week was a hit with loud and much-appreciated music blaring throughout the 1st and 2nd floor hallways. The year overall enriched and elevated student's social soundness to new dimensions.

Student Life

Subfreshmen Retreat

Once again, the subbies have made a step towards bonding as a class. Accompanied by various students of other grade levels and some faculty members, the class of '99 trekked out to Lake of the Woods in Mahomet. According to those involved, most people seemed to have a good time despite the rain. Among other things, the subs learned their Rights and Responsibilities as students, what to do in case of a crisis and, of course, everyone's name.

Fred Marx Comes Back to Uni with Hoop Dreams

Fred Marx discusses the production and the release of the documentary.

Something unusual happened this year at Uni. On January 12, all students left school to watch Hoop Dreams, the documentary directed by Uni alum Fred Marx. The documentary is about two inner-city Chicago teenagers and their experiences with basketball recruiting. The initial intention for the documentary was to show only the first year of their high school basketball career on a public access channel. However, things got interesting, and Marx and his crew decided to extend the project to cover all four years. Fred Marx was a basketball star, with dreams of being in the NBA, until his graduation in 1973. All of the Uni students greatly enjoyed and appreciated having Marx visit, as it exposed everyone to a lifestyle we don't see very often.

Dylan and Andy are engulfed in a conversation with Marx.

Uni students watch William Gates on the big screen.

Harvey

The fall play this year was the 1940's vintage comedy "Harvey." Unfortunately, the namesake of this play was not available for the cast photo. The play involved the zany antics of Elwood P. Dowd ("here, let me give you one of my cards"), played by Jeffrey Brokish, and his best pal Harvey, a six foot white pooka rabbit. In Elwood's adventures with Dr. Chumley (David Beedy) and Dr. Sanderson (David Asher) of Chumley's Rest (a loony bin), he offends and embarrasses many people, including his sister Veta (Jenne Glish), his niece Myrtle Mae (Alison Leff), and his lawyer Judge Gaffney (Anand Swarwate). Elwood resolves his eccentricities in the climactic cabbie scene where it is decided that being crazy is okay as long as you're a nice guy. The production was aided and abetted by the ever important crew who got almost all of the light cues right.

Well I'll be sure to send him right up.

A Man With A Pizza...

This year's student production, A Man With A Pizza, written by David Asher and directed by Jenne Glish, was a smashing success. Set in Joey Singleton's (David Asher) Manhattan apartment, it centered around the conflict between Joey and his father (played by Zach Hensley). Joey loves pizza and fun, especially when shared with his friends Samantha Chase (Alison Leff), a talented dancer, and Andrew Rivers (James Johnson), an exotic male dancer and pizza delivery boy. Torn between having fun and accounting for dimwitted clients like Henrietta Dinglemeyer (Hannah Koenker), Joey turns to his Aunt Miriam (played by Susan Rempe) for help. She advises him to follow his heart, and in the climactic penultimate scene, he stands up to his overbearing father. Elizabeth Singleton (Sari Karplus), who speaks only in recycled soap opera lines, tries in vain to return to reality and rescue her son. In the final scene, Sam departs for Los Angeles with her arrogant British dance director, Sebastian Parker (Jeffrey Brokish), and Joey, having severed ties with his father, must strike out on his own for the first time. "It was wildly funny, but it also made me cry at the end," said one senior.

Alison shrieks as Susan flees with the 8 ball.

Changes Galore at Uni This Year

There were loads of changes in and around Uni High this year. Under the leadership of the new principal Shelley Roberts, Uni's classes became much more bearable, thanks to the much needed fans. Many rooms, including Mr. B's, also got air conditioning. This year we all got a chance to enjoy a good freshly prepared lunch, without having to leave the building, thanks to the lunch cart. The drop off and pick up of students became much easier with the new drop off zone off Mathews street. Student Council was given their own room, in the second floor stairwell, and voice mail (give them a call). The Humanities House was donated to Uni High by the U of I. It now houses the Fine Arts offices, the English department, and the Director of Development Marilyn Upah Bant. The Yearbook and Gargoyle rooms combined under the new Journalism and Yearbook teacher Mike Smeltzer to form the Gargoyle/Yearbook room.

Twins rule: Spirit Week

Sarah and Bridget "get spirited!"

This was the second annual Spirit Week at Uni High. It was held the week of January 17-20, 1995. This year was much different from last year's Spirit Week. There were much more festivities to boost the unity and spirit of the school. Such activities included a pep rally, twin day, wacky day, class colors day , and school colors day combined with hat day. There were also many boys' and girls' basketball games including a girls' Uni High Invitational. The hallways were decorated with orange, blue, and white streamers, and music boomed through the hallways between classes. To literally put the icing on the cake at the end of an exciting week, the entire school was treated to chocolate and white cake by Student Council. The students reacted positively to Spirit Week – especially junior Bridget Rogers who said, "It was nice to have a break from the usual monotonous pattern of school", while sophomore Jeff Kang added, " It's a keeper!".

Dances Sizzle

This year's dances were as amazing as ever! The 80's Dance sponsored by Student Council was thought to be "the best one all year," according to Junior Anne-Marie Cziko. Students dressed up for the Halloween Dance sponsored by the sophomores, while love was in the air for the Valentine's Dance. People mingled, talked and danced the nights away.

Lounge Committee Governs Lounge

Committee members Ben Scott and Bridget Rogers.

Dylan and Andy sit around in the lounge.

As always, the lounge committee's goals for the year were to keep the lounge clean, find furniture for the lounge, and maintain the stereo equipment. This year, the controversial donation of a television and a VCR as well as a new stereo made the lounge a more relaxing place. As if all of the new equipment wasn't enough to provide entertainment, the lounge committee sponsored party days such as Beach Day.

Due to lack of space, this year's seniors may be the last to leave their handprints on the walls of the lounge.

Mae, Jani , Kumar, and Amanda hang out in the lounge.

Hungry and socially conscious students were able to find a remedy through the multitude of food sales sponsored by new and old clubs. There was diversity in the clubs this year – from sports to religion to culture. There was a club for practically every interest and idea. The range of activities in which clubs participated saw new depths in organization and initiation. Hopefully this pattern of activity will continue in future Uni years.

ORGANIZATIONS

Stud. Co. Shows Spirit!

Student Council tried to make Uni High a better place to live. They were involved with many worthy ventures, including a student exhange with Central, the Food for Families Drive, X-Week, and Spirit Week. They were always there to rev up the crowds with a spirited rendition of the school song. New clubs were formed, money was given away, and people were just groovy and informed.

Agora Days Commttee

Agora Days Committee got a head start this year, posting outline deadline signs in the 3rd week of school. Again sign-up was made immensely easier by using computer technology! Students signed up for TV show appreciation, cooking, sports, philosophical, musoc appreciation, and movie classes as usual. It was fun – how about making it a full week next year?

SFAC (Student Faculty Advisory Committee) had another successful year, working hard to find solutions for student life problems. Although not a part of student council, this committee dealt with many important issues such as the 300 minute rule and student parking. Students and faculty met together every Friday at lunch and discussed problems arising in the school, and developed solutions for them. Chairman of the committee first semester Anand "Bob" Sarwate said that the problems brought to the committee were issues that were not in student council's jurisdiction, and that they were problems that the administration should deal with. So.....you have a problem? Who do you call?.....SFAC!

Gargoyle and Yearbook

Gargoyle is new and improved (can it be?) with the addition of the new advisor, Mike Smeltzer. They are led by junior editors Noura Sharabash and Samantha Sutton who are"very capable people" according to one staff member. The Gargoyle tackled many issues, ranging from the new dimensions of Uni, commenting on the old, and exploring the worlds of sports and culture that interest students. The Gargoyle was enhanced again this year by the journalism class which submitted articles while practicing good journalistic skills. Without the Gargoyle, many students would be lost in this confusing place we call Uni.

Yearbook, led for the third year by editors Hannah Koenker and Cindy Wang, went through a huge facelift. First of all, they got two new Macintosh Power PC's, their very own computer lab, and a brand-spanking new advisor (Mike Smeltzer). With a completely new staff, they took pictures, wrote copy, and laid out loads of eye-pleasing pages while simultaneously juggling homework, sports, and college applications. Yearbook's future looks bleak for next year, as the reigning goddesses will have graduated, but hopefully a ray of sunshine will break through the fog and lead the yearbook to further glory.

Joyce Tang flying solo!

Elections Committee: Still in One Dimension

Like last year, Elections Committee consisted of one person, senior Joyce Tang. She ran the subbie elections at the beginning of the year, but was replaced second semester when she left for Hong Kong. She counted up the votes for President, Secretary/Treasurer, Representative, and SFAC and had loads of fun.

Unique!

Unique, sponsored by Ms. Fuller, once again gathered a large number of students who excelled at writing poems and short stories - just like the good old days. Under tight supervision by editors Joyce Tang and Asako Kinase-Leggett, the members of Unique completed the annual literary publication. This year, editors emphasized not only the development of writing skills, but also different forms such as drawing and photography. Like always, Unique had another successful year!

Students for a Better World (S4BW) held to their motto this year by continuing to "make a difference." Under the skillful guidance of Richard Lin and Samantha Sutton, and the watchful eye of sponsor Mrs. Kaplan, S4BW not only sponsored a dance, sponsored a child, and helped Habitat for Humanity, but they also made environmentally aware t-shirts! And they had fun doing it. Just so you know they met Wednesdays at lunch.

Chess Club

The Chess Club guys played chess every Tuesday and Thursday at lunch. They also formed a chess team that competed in many tournaments. The team was led by Tommy Craggs, David Asher, and chess club president Alex Krasavin. Although hampered by rule changes that are designed to help larger schools, the chess team still kicked booty!

French Club

This year, French Club took on a whole new atmosphere. Due to the absence of Madame Arlabosse, Madame Lopez took over as the new club sponsor. She helped out in organizing and contributed much of her time, while delighting us with her new ideas. Under the leadership of juniors Bridget Rogers as president, and Anne-Marie Cziko as vice-president, this spirited club organized a variety of fundraising events. Their plans included food sales, a French meal, and an all new Mardi Gras celebration. French Club learned a lot about French culture, but more importantly, had "a lot of fun".

German Club

This year, dedicated German students spent every other Friday learning more about Germany and its culture. The club was sponsered by Paul Weilmeunster and led by president Jani Miles and vice-president Christina Garcia. Sapna Cheryan was treasurer and Anita Rajeswaren and Amal Amin acted as secretary. Together, and with the help of the rest of the German club members, they were able to create an exciting year that involved many activities; among them, eating bratwurst and suaerkraut and watching German movies. The German Club also held many fundraisers, including the traditional Black Forest Cake sale at open house,to raise money for field trips to enhance their knowledge and understanding of German culture.

Three Men and the Japan Club

Japan Club diminished in membership this year to only three members. Japan Club, led by Nathan Dummitt and faculty sponsor Mamiko Ihara, learned about Japanese culture through videos, games, and field trips to Hot Wok. The members had a fun-filled and exciting year.

Russian Club

This year, Russian Club concentrated on bringing joy and happiness to Uni High students' lives by selling donuts and pizza to raise money for the Russian Exchange. The Exchange took place in February and March, and students from Uni stayed with Russian families, attended Russian classes, and went on field trips to museums and churches. They planned the annual Maslenitsa (Butter Festival) featuring skits, poems, and songs in Russian. President Hannah Koenker, along with Secretary Jeffery Brokish, Vice-President Hadas Ritz, and Treasurer Erin Trouth kept things running smoothly.

Islamic Awareness Club

This year a new club joined the many others already present at Uni High. Islamic Awareness Club was sponsored by Hazem Jaber and lead by Hanady Sharabash, Emad Jassim, and Asad Husain. The club focused on educating non-Muslims in the way of Islam and everyone was welcome. Each week the club addressed a different aspect of Islam through discussions, videos, and demonstrations.

Latin Club Flourishes

Latin club was more popular than ever. Under the skilled leadership of Consuls (Presidents) Noura Sharabash and Jim Hurst, Latin Club had parties celebrating Roman holidays, an Olympiad, a treasure hunt, and of course the perennial favorite chariot races. As Senior Jeffrey Brokish put it, "Latin Club was an invigorating experience." Ben Brothers was Aedile (Secretary), and Derek Wade was Quaestor (Treasurer).

Rick Murphy led the Chorus into his fourteenth year, with an unprecedented number of students (over 90 people participated every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday). The Chorus performed in only two concerts this year, but did visit St. Louis in their annual trip. According to one student, "The trip was really the highlight of the year for me." Rick Murphy also conducted another successful year of orchestra. In February, they had their annual Christmas concert featuring the ever popular rendition of the Star Wars medley. The orchestra consisted of about 80 people this year including many new members.

Madrigals Sing

With more people than last year and lots of new faces, madrigals was as strong as ever. Under the leadership of Mr. Murphy, five seniors, and the bald-headed Marshall, madrigals had a full agenda this year, taking stage at many private parties and personal concerts this year, especially around Christmas. Madrigals have impressed so many people, that they are planning a tour to England some time in the summer to showcase their voices!

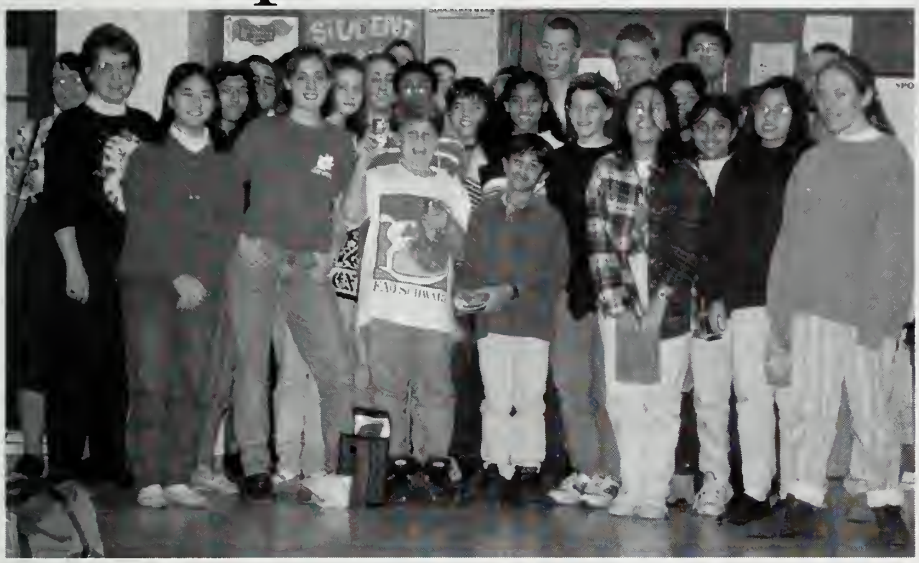
Consisting of ten members (four of them new) and the new director of Drama, Barbara Ridenour, the club was able to choose a selection of different plays, one written by our very own David Asher. They worked hard to raise enough money for new curtains for our stage, and even had enough money for an fabulous trip to Chicago.

Math Team Smears the Competition



Math Team came back with a vengence this year, going after the coveted first-place ICTM trophy that eluded the Team last year. Fresh, young subbies joined ranks with jaded veterens of many years experience to challenge the top teams in the state to contest their rightful place among them.

Puzzle Club Puts the Pieces Together

Once again, Supreme-King-for-Eternity Jeff Brokish and Vice-Dictator-for-Life Sari Karplus brought many people together in their search for meaning in random pieces of cardboard. This year's puzzle club was sponsored by Mrs. Fuller.

Magic Circle

Surviving persecution from the more 'normal' of Uni's inhabitants, the patrons of the Magic Circle club met on Tuesdays to buy, trade, and play Magic: the Gathering™. Around ten people a week strove to conquer their opponents in the game sessions, entered bi-monthly tourneys of skill pitting members against each other in one-on-one duels, and played sprawling multi-opponent games.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes

For the first time, non-school sponsered clubs and activities used Uni as a meeting place. One of these was the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. The members gathered together on Wednesdays or Fridays to listen to a non-denominational, Bible-based lecture-discussion and to interact in various games and learning sessions. Future plans for this area's Fellowship include attending a camp together some time this summer.

SPORTS

As babies boomed in the PE Department, along came new coaches and new faces in the field of sports. The boys' cross-country team made it to state for the second year in a row. In his final year of soccer coaching boys' soccer, Coach Thorn saw a disappointing number of injuries. Girls' swimming pulled their way into successful competition at state levels. Both basketball teams finished successfully with near 500 seasons. The track teams gained new coaches and new runners. Discussion for adding and amending Uni sports raised both interests and student input in the decision throughout the school. Sports inspired team coagulation and student bonding. It was an enjoyable year and it showed a promise for future years.

Uni High Soccer Battles Through

The 1994 season started with great expectations by all. However, season-ending injuries to captains Steve Nafziger and Jeff Thorn put a damper on the team's spirit. Highlights included a 9-3 crushing of Normal Calvary and a 7-0 win over Peotone. The team, headed by captains Kumar Das, Ben Scott, and Ted Ulen, led Uni to its first home regional game ever. This year marked the end of a fabulous coaching career for Mr. Colin Thorn. He has coached for six years and was greatly appreciated. Junior Ted Ulen commented "Coach Thorn has been invaluable to the the progress of Uni High soccer." He coached Uni to an impressive 7-10 record this year, and he will be missed.

Swimmers Make Splash At State

Although the swim team was one of the smallest in Uni's history, it also proved to be the most successful. The team was tiny with only ten swimmers. They left their mark, posting a 3-4 record at their dual meets with two losses being within five points. The entire team competed at sectionals, placing 5th and sending half of the team to state. Senior Megan Flynn qualified in the 200 and 500 free, while freshman Christine Keller qualified in the 50 free and 100 backstroke, breaking many school records in the process. Those two, combined with senior Jani Miles, junior Bridget Rogers, and sophomore Chandra Linton managed to qualify the 200 and 400 free relays for state for the first time in Uni High history. As if this wasn't enough, Megan placed 4th in the 500 and 7th in the 200, while Christine placed 4th in backstroke and 9th in the 50. The Uni team made a strong showing, and ended up placing 9th in the entire state.

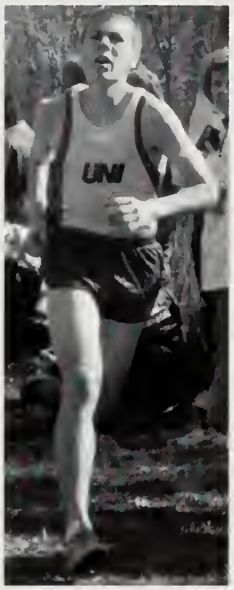
Boys' Cross Country Takes It to the Next Level



Boy's cross-country had a spectacular start to the season. Freshman phenoms Andrew Reynolds and Paul Herendeen stepped into varsity positions, replacing two graduating members from last year's team. At the first invitational of the year, the Chrisman Cowchip Classic, Uni took third place due to strong races by all the varsity. The team won the Tuscola meet for the third year in a row, highlighting the middle of a great season filled with personal records. Uni went to regionals and placed third, then to sectionals and placed fourth, and finished off an otherwise superb season with a rather disappointing nineteenth at State. To summarize the experience, Damian Marshall said "Next year, we'll be back.We'll be back with vengeance." With only one departing senior, Uni looks to have an even better season next year.

Girls' C-C Small but Special

Girl's Cross Country was limited by their small size this year (there were only 7 girls!!). To overcome this, they had many good luck charms, ranging from railroad nuts and bolts, Pepsi cans, safety pins, and Ace hardware hats. Even though they were plagued by asthma attacks, tendonitis, and recurring hip injuries, they showed their team abilities by placing 5th at the Mahomet-Seymour Invitation. When asked about this year's team Anne-Marie Cziko said, "We didn't do as well as teams in the past, but it was a lot of fun and we all got along GREAT!"

Success for JV

This year's girls' JV team, led by a new coach Julie Christie, ended with a record of 8-12, and won more games then last year's JV. Although their season started off slowly (they lost their first 6 games), they came back strong towards the end of the season, even tying at 8-8. A highlight of the season was their first game against Chrisman, where Sophomore Audrey Wen led the Uni High Illineks with a season record of 15 points in a 40-30 victory. Another exciting moment was when Uni forced Shiloh into overtime – both of these teams had crushed the JV the year before. Sophomore Danilo Juvane felt that " that the JV team was much better this year." Music teacher Rick Murphy agreed, adding, "I saw steady improvement as the year went on. In the beginning their play was timid, but by the end of the season they were playing as a team: aggressively – and exciting to watch." He was also convinced that "the team shows great promise for the future." Even though this year's girls' JV team didn't pull off a winning season, the general opinion seems to be that this year was a success, and is best summed up by Danilo; "They were dope."

JV Boys B-Ball

The Uni High Junior Varsity Basketball squad, coached by Tom Caufield, finished a disappointing 3-15 this season. The Junior Varsity season was a toss up from the very beginning. The team lost many talented players, such as Dan Murphy, Danilo Juvane, and Tommy Craggs, whose height and experience would be sorely missed. However, the team played together and stuck through a tough season with a lot of difficult losses. A couple of the bright spots occured when Uni annihilated Judah Christian twice. Another was when the team came together to defeat Danville Baptist away from home, with Mason Throneberg and Aaron Rosa scoring season-highs 17 and 19. Despite the disappointing season the team still played with energy and enthusiasm at every game and gave up much of their time to come to hard practices. Hopefully next year's team can learn and build on this year's record and lay the foundation for a more successful future.

Girls' Victories Hit Double Digits

The varsity girl's basketball team finished the season with an amazing 11-12 record. Their record was tied 11-11, and it came down to the last game, which they only lost by a heartbreaking five points. Sally Walker, who had coached the team for many years stepped down before the season, and Rebecca Murphy became the new head coach. The players accepted and dealt with this change very well, and continued to improve their level of play. The team was led by senior co-captains Allison Cobb, Nola Miller, and Lindsey Schmidt.

Many fans showed up to support the team and give encouragement. The team improved both their record and their teamwork throughout the season. Sophomore Nadia Reynolds said, "They played well as a team, especially towards the end of the year. No one player dominated. I believe that the team's hard work and dedication along with coach Murphy's coaching bred success." The team will lose five seniors next year, who will be greatly missed. Despite this, they are looking forward to another victory-filled season next year.

Varsity Has Strong Year

The boys' varsity basketball team ended their up and down season with a record of 10-15. Team members were disappointed with the end of the season which included losses to both Heritage and Jamaica. Highlights, however, included a win against Oakland at Senior Night and also beating Oakland in overtime during the regular season. "We had a competitive schedule, and we were competitive in every game," said senior Tim Monahan. "[The team] improved a lot." Led by Monahan and Liebovich, the team finished strong and is looking to improve next year with the addition of several good junior varsity players. They will be hard pressed to take the places of this year's seniors, but life must go on.

Uni faculty has always been more than just teachers and educators – they've been our friends, club sponsors and most recently, our P.A.S.S. Advisors. It's never easy trying to teach a classroom full of kids, but our teachers not only got us to learn, but made it fun as well. New heights were reached with the advent of technology in the classroom, while some tried and true methods proved their worth once again. It was a year of learning and fun here at Uni High, thanks to our faculty.

Changes in Administration

Uni changed principals once again (what's else is new?), from interim principal Barbara Wysocki to Dr. Shelley Roberts. Ms. Roberts, with the assistance of the always helpful Joel Crames, set out immediately to improve every facet of Uni High life. The school was fixed up with ceiling fans, acoustical tile, the new drop-off area on the west side of Uni, air-conditioning in the library, kitchen, and teacher's lounge, new chairs for the South Attic, and asbestos removal--all made possible by a grant from the University. Due to Ms. Roberts' productive first semester, we got real food in the kitchen through the lunch cart, a better learning environment, and a rediscovered connection to the University. While all these changes were being made, Mr. Crames found time to be a friend to everyone, making banners welcoming faculty babies and announcing school events.

The Office and Counseling Staff

Change was the big word in the counseling office this year. Counselors Dean Davis-Smith and Lisa Micele were excited about their new room, the Counseling Office Annex, which housed all of the counselor's infromation about colleges. Lori Baker updated our transcripts and made appointments while Lisa Micele counseled the seniors and consoled them when they had troubles with college applications. Dean Davis-Smith talked with the subfreshman and graced the halls with her cheerful presence. The office staff kept themselves busy with their usual round of chores. Barb kept track of who was sick and who wasn't, and also tracked down all the Uni students who decided to skip. Randy kept the finanances. Last and certainly not least, Cathy kept track of the administrative tasks that needed to be taken care of.

Jennifer Burns enthralled the freshmen with such English classics as Romeo and Juliet and The Lord of the Flies. Creative juices flowed as sophomores wrote numerous journal entries for Dorothy Fuller. Rosemary Laughlin taught the juniors the intricacies of the Charleston. Seniors mastered the art of debate under the skillful leadership of Adele Suslick.

New Faces Highlight

The foreign language department sported many new faces this year. We warmly welcomed the two new Japanese teachers and also the new French teacher. There was a surprisingly new change in the Japanese department. Huang and Ihara were able to replace "Mrs. Oguichi" and "sensai" Thompson. They were both delighted to be able to help students not only to learn the language but also understand the culture.

Due to Mme. Arlabosse's medical leave, Mme. Lopez brought her French skills to Uni for a semester. She loved being able to teach in an enthusiastic atmosphere while experiencing new challenges.

The foreign language department had received an unprecedented number of grants. An IBM technologies grant allowed Herr W. to bring hypermedia to the study of German, with his Mosaic project. The U.S. government funded the Russian exchange program for another year so Masha was pleasantly delighted! The Japanese Newsletter still continued to gain popularity nation-wide.

Despite the removal of the school's language labs, Mrs. Newman's Latin skills continued to attract many new students. Carol Bond, continuing to be the department head, was still quite pleased on the advancements of the department!

Shu Huang thought Japanese I and III.

Mamiko Ihara taught Japanese II and IV.

'Masha' Wolkanowski taught Russian I, II, III and IV, and led the Russian Exchange to St. Petersburg

Taking Math Beyond the Limits

This year, the math department underwent a major overhaul. Under the expert eye of the incredibly organized Carol Castellon, Uni's math department took advantage of new electronic equipment. Along with Linda Hermann, Malika Djemil, and Hazem Jaber (three new additions to the department). the math crew continued last year's Mathematica Project in their quest to bring animated examples to every math student.

In addition to overseeing the works, Mrs. Castellon taught Algebra I and II. Elizabeth Jockusch got to see her subbies again, teaching Algebra II as well as accelerated Algebra II, Calc I, and accelerated Calc I.

Linda Hermann took over Mrs. Callahan's Geometry and accelerated Geometry classes with Gene Bild teaching Algebra I and Advanced Math. Hazem Jaber (everyone's favorite physics teacher) took over Calc I while Malika Djemil (everyone's favorite astrophysics teacher) commanded Calc II and III.

And finally, Peter Kimble's Computer-Science-Department-of-One is now a part of the ever expanding Math Crew.

Mr. Clean

John Turner returned once again this year, marking his 17th year of faithful service to Uni. He played Mr. Clean, making sure our hallways were sparkling and shiny. This was a "very hard" job, and Uni is grateful to have someone as devoted and excellent as him to take on this challenging task.

Alumni Affairs

Marilyn Upah Bant took on the full time position of Director of Development and Alumni Affairs at Uni this year. She coordinated all the annual fundraising such as the Phonathon. She worked in conjunction with the U of I foundation and wrote grants. In addition, Marilyn Upah Bant produced and distributed the monthly school newsletter, U'n'I, and the quarterly alumni letter.

P.E. - What else can we say?

Sally is the big cheese once again!

The biggest change in the P.E. department this year was Sally Walker's retirement as girls basketball coach. Bonnie took the spring semester off to recuperate from back surgery. Coach Ray mangled his foot in mid-season, while Al led the mighty swimmers to a 9th place at the state meet. Fitness dragged on and on and on as usual.

Fine Arts Department Rules!

This year the fine arts department continued to expand our cultural horizons. Mr. Murphy was seen everywhere – not only teaching chorus and orchestra, but also sponsoring Student Council, the Jazz Band, an a capella voice group, and Subbie basketball. Ms. Hellyer spent her time trying to turn highly energetic Uni students into educated art lovers. She also cosponsored S4BW and took part in SFAC and the technology committee. Another class - "Special Projects in Art" - in which students worked on independent studies in areas such as cartooning, arts technology, and photography,was added to the number of courses already taught by the Fine Arts staff. This year also marked the departure of Laura Reneau and the arrival of Barbara Ridenour, the new Drama teacher. She says that she "always dreamed of teaching art in a small school like Uni". She is also head of the Thespian Club. Overall, the teachers agree that Uni is a cool place to work because of the students and the renowned atmosphere.

The Never Ending Library

Like usual, the library was kept in line by Runelle Shriver, Mrs. Jacobson, and last year's recruit, Maggie Urian. This year, the library made two huge changes. Kathryn Howell, a grad student at the U of I, joined the forces. Senior Jeff Brokish and Mrs. Jacobson worked on computerizing the library with a new homepage on the computer. This way students could look up information about the library from any computer in school, essentially creating a library without walls! Mrs. Jacobson was gone for the second semester but the work kept going strong.

Underclassmen were an active part in expanding the social depth of Uni's student body. The cohesiveness of subbies and freshmen made the atmosphere of the second floor hallway quite chaotic. Sophomores successfully closed both hallways once again this year. Juniors crowded the student lounge and everyone packed themselves into the kitchen. The atmosphere calmed down tremendously though and everyone, including the subbies, secured a place in the social dimensions of Uni.

Dedication

"This with this will go" was a familiar statement we heard from the wise mouth of Hazem Jaber as we trekked through the perilous art of cancelling the "upstairs" and "downstairs". For many of us, Mr. Jaber showed us the use of Physics in everyday life, while others explored the wonderful "language" of Calculus. We definitely learned many important pieces of information that would help us in the future—whether it was knowing to buy a vacuum cleaner to power your flowbee, to saving oodles of money by haggling with phone companies. Mr. Jaber, always with a twinkle in his eye and a smile on his face, kept himself open and easy to talk to. He kept us up to date about his children, Muhammed (a lover of Barney) and Hanan. Mr. Jaber was concerned about our thoughts and incorporated our ideas into his unique teaching style. He even let us tell stories of our life experiences, like Kumar's escapade with a gorilla or Leif's dreams of becoming Special Agent Christianson. He welcomed us with open arms. Now with all this it may seem we didn't even have time to learn in class, but in reality we learned a lot— just look at the Final Exam grades! (Just kidding) He kept us on our toes with bundles of formulas and examples. His tests were always fair and speckled with various members of the Easy Family. We, the Class of 1995, would like to thank Mr. Jaber and hope he continues teaching Arabic to Uni kids long after we're gone! Shukran, Mr. Jaber.

I, David Asher, being of bizarre mind and still growing body, do hereby bequeath the following: Some great geometry to Joy, a WOW to Audrey, and a big BON to George. To Lindsey, a shift to neutral with hysterical laughter. Something that BLOWS to Maryam, a beautiful kitchen to Thayer, and a manly millimeter to Jeff T. To Andy & Deschler an Ace down and a Gimme. POT to Jenne and Sari, an "S.S." to Nola, and "Anything" to Lydia. To Cindy, a dinner at the Olive Garden and an Untamed Heart. To Amanda, an interesting phone call with Fraker. To Hannah, a parent-free night full of piano. To Alison, a BIG cup of Milk and a nice guy to spill it with, a stock character, something "constructive," and a midnight trip to the Jewel for... To Sapna, books to read and conjecture about. To Sari, a study partner to C.S. every friday (huh...) and to everyone, love, happiness, and pizza

I, Tim Ballard, being of some degree of sound mind and body do bequeath the following: To Damian and Gorski I bequeath the X-Country team, with the following words to remember:"NO SLACKERS!" To the math department I leave a razor. To Hormozd I leave the class of 00 and the lounge for trashing purposes. To the Latin 4 class, I bequeath the attatched Top 10 list, "Top 10 reasons I'll miss you guys." To Balazs, I leave my hype dance moves so he can carry on the Uni High Dance Tradition (Go Bognar, Go Bognar!). In addition to such things bequeathed, I hereby release Derek Wade, also known as Wad, from any malefactations resulting from the incident heretofore known as , "the non-functional joke."

I, Seth Bank, being of sound mind do hereby bequeth the following possessions unto the following people. To Jamie A., a whoopin'. I give Jenne L. a liscense plate that makes sense. To Anne Marie, a visit to the Kreska Eye Clinic. Damian P. Marshall shall receive my coral skillz so that he may be able to sing as loud as I did. To Rachel I leave a fine man. To next year's debate groups, many a trip to the Undergrad. library on Tuesday afternoons. To Mr. Jaber, my thanks, you are a great teacher. May the Hop And Shop be blessed. To Lisa Micele I leave a dinner at the Cancun. To Mr. Crames my undying gratitude and a new batch of subfreshmen. To all the rest of the under class I leave big fat Ha Ha because I'm done and you aren't.!

I, Jeffery Brokish, leave some sanity to Masha, to the library, many years of problem-free use of their new computer system, and to next years's Physics classes, all my extra credit points. I leave Jym H. various misspellings of his first name, as well as a deck of stainless steel playing cards (they'll last forever, and they clean up in a snap.) To Joyce I leave an infinite supply of sun crunchers, to Doug I leave a little insight into life, to Dan B., I leave all my unfinished Mosaic work, to G.G. I leave a recording of me yelling "George!", and to future Puzzle Club members I leave the responsibility and goal of keeping the club going. To the collective group of David Y., Jenne, David B., and James J., I leave a "trip" to somewhere in Bloomington.

I, Wenlan Chang, hereby will Amy Coombe our "basketball conversation," some nice bodies for her to stare at during practice, a hot guy who appreciates her, many laughs, and lots of luck. I leave Ellen and Lilly a shopping spree in Chicago, Sophie a giant poster of Wesley Snipes, a big apology to Sang, and smiles to Ruxandra. To Joyce I leave fond memories of Mr. Glazer, 7th hour, and a hug. To Charlotte, I leave that French guy (w/o the fiancee), my memories of Omar, and a great friendship. To my brother, I leave my whining ability, love, and my best wishes. Last but not least, to Allison C. and Sapna, my very best friends, I leave the best times of my life and all of my love.

I, Sapna Cheryan, hereby leave to Joy a passing "'Sup Sup?" in the hall. To Christine H. I leave an exciting car ride home and to Maryam another year of 8th hour P.E. I leave Amanda and Nadia a recording contract to become the next Salt 'n Pepa and Becky somebody else to always say "What's so funny?" To Matt Wilhelm I leave a dumbbell and a grin. I leave Danilo a picture of Denzel and to Anura a "hej" and a "tay-cle." To UHGB I leave another 475 (maybe for JV to use?). Finally, I leave many thank you's to everybody who makes Uni what it is; it's been an incredible 5 years.

I, Allison R. Cobb, being of as sane mind as possible, leave Smeltz the perfect al-e-oop pass, Beck a smile during free throws. Nadia, Mr. Bergandine, and Shawn a bushel of strawberries. I don a humango insect joke book to Eli and Cookie, lots of laughs to the Puhba Retreat group, and a Lenders to the Bagel Group. Next, I thank my family and the wonderful Uni academic staff for all their care, concern, support, and encouragement over the years. I'll never forget it! Finally, to my friends, I leave the following: To Asako and Joyce I give you all the perverted jokes I don't understand, to Sophie I leave a round-trip ticket to Orangeville, and to Sapna and Winnie I give with the biggest of all laughs and smiles, a sex scene with Denzel, Denzel sheets, and Denzel wallpaper. Always keep busy - with that, I'm sure you will!

I, Ruxandra Costescu, hereby leave the following things upon my parting from Uni: to Noura, a loudspeaker so she can yell at people who haven't turned in their Gargoyle assignments; to Sang, a younger, unmarried version of Eddie Vedder and permission for a road trip; to Jeffrey, a book entitled "Reasons I Should Drop the Foreign Language I'm Currently Taking" and some financial support to help him start a National Puzzle Club; to Sari, a less exciting social life so she can be just like the rest of us; to Joyce, a charm to protect her from the ghost of a certain pig left all alone in a trash can; to Mr. Stone (since we're already at it), the memory of all those crickets we had to dismember and insects that we murdered; to anyone who deserves it, the Soundgarden, Doors, Metallica, and Nine Inch Nails posters in my locker (in fact, you can have the locker too); and finally, to Usama, I'm not quite sure what I'm leaving – contact Sang for more information.

I, Kumar Das, do hereby bequeath: to Ray, the shirt you stole and wore the next day; to Jamey, a pre-game "Shazad" because "I like you"; to Thomas, some stolen stuff from the math house and the solution to Mr. Bild's vest; to Genia, a pee-wad-mic, some shit dogs, and a Winkel; to Naffi, some Outkast (pronounced Outkast) ; to Jonathan, A.J. and 4 T's; to Nils, Peter S., and the rest of the Goldwassen Tribe, an HAC; to Danilo and Dan M., a couple inches from my vertical so you guys can dunk; to Mclintock, a new laugh; to Nathan, some Bass; to Bass, some zinc; to Yunny, that sack in my basement that said "Yunny Kim" on it; and to all the people I didn't get along with, you are all . . . uh . . .

I, Sunny D., being like cool and stuff, leave the following: To Gene some driving skill and any girl from my locker, to James, a V-12 for his bug and a few extra boner points, to Yunny a Jeffery Brokish dogg and a thanx for being true, to Steve my best game of Final Fantasy III and a couple of switches, to Ted 25 p.s.i. for his shoe and some caffeine, to Anne-Marie my bug collection and fetal pig (you thought he was cute, remember?), to Jon W. some good story ideas. To Ray, the towel lady, and Herr W. I leave my undying hatred, but also a thank you for showing me what not to do with my life, to my parents I leave all my love and eternal gratitude for putting up with 16 years of me. Finally, to Soo I leave my love (of course) and the knowledge that you can be the best at whatever you try. You're 1 in a million, little bro.

I, Drake Depew being of mind and body do hereby will: to June my love for eating stuff beginning with the letter J, to Zach and Daniel the Power Rangers, to Suzo my love of D. Byrne, to Nicole stupid fun, to Johann slam dancing in parked cars, to Carol strip poker with pigs in a trough, to my sister my demented sense of humour, and to UNI eights vats of brussel sprout cream cheese.

I, David Deschler, having refrained from murdering my classmates, do leave the following people the following things. To Ted I leave some enthusiasm and competitiveness so he won't be a lazy mug for the rest of his life. To Anne-Marie and Damian I leave each other since that's as close to a perfect match as I've ever seen. To Gene I leave a way to rid himself of that accent and the DESHRAY so he won't have to ride in his crappy Volvo. To Jamie I leave an ass whooping and a hot girlfriend to pass the time with. To Steve I leave a new "girl-friend" every week. To Bridget I leave some more guys since all us seniors will be gone. To next year's soccer team I leave the best of luck, even though that won't be enough. To Aaron Rosa I leave the knowledge that you may well be the hardest man alive. Finally, to Uni High I leave a golf team and a lasting reputation as a perenial sports powerhouse. See Ya'll! It's been fun.

I, Megan Flynn, hereby leave the following things for the following people. To Jani, my swimming buddy, I leave many taste FAT-FREE foods, and memories of early mornings with Al; to Lindsey, I leave the perfect guy and someone else to be in all of her classes. To Nola, I leave some awesome college years as wells as memories of our great times in the past and to come. To Dylan I leave an everlasting stash of money and food. To Ellen I leave someone to give her guy-advice and a permanently flattening hair product. To Tim I leave 7 hugs a day, many more interesting conversations and thanks for all of your support. Finally, I leave everyone fun and luck later on.

UNIVERSITY H.S. LIBRARY

I, Peter Folk, being of melodic body and enharmonic mind, do hereby bequeath: To Daniel Cranston, a bit of common sense. To Pedro, a gag (not a joke... a gag... like, a muzzle). To the lounge, a stereo that doesn't shut off every time crappy music comes on. To the Student Council, "my office" (Rm. 208) back. To the computer lab, no one to yell at (or, for that matter, to screw up, and to Paul Herendeen, Godhood — sometime. To the rest of y'all, well, I give two pieces of advice; first, enjoy the rest of your high school careers: they can be a lot of fun, finally, I tell you, from experience, never spend more than 10 minutes at the scene of an activity (crime) you wouldn't want to be seen at.

I, Jenne Glish, leave Chris Tsay An Affair To Remember and a little pool of gene. I leave Bob a watermelon and a Scottish cheer. I leave Plastic Wrapper a flying door and spandex. To Zach Hensley I leave a feverish theory and The Silver Creek. To Lydia I leave a blue speedo, to Amy Coombe the GAMA club, to Dan Tucker I leave my sister. I leave Alison Leff a happy evening in a graveyard, and Rachel Reingold a hug and a busy corner. To Alex K I leave a short skirt and a long hug, to Salin I leave some of my height, and to Russell I leave bread and cheese. To Smurphy I leave a decent pitch pipe and Black Coffee, and to Ms. Ridenour I leave Covenant, The Glass Menagerie, and some enthusiastic drama students.

I, George Gruschow, being of bored mind and sleepy body, hereby dedicate my life to the nutty bar, and leave the following gifts to my friends. To Matt Bandy, aka Harf, I leave Gian-Polo and the all other problems with the DEC. To Paul Grayson, I leave my 4 foot toy arm to yank Harf's ears with whenever he boots the DEC. To Daniel Beedy, I leave a game for rainy days: (1) Put the iguana on the elevator, (2) hit all the buttons, (3) run. To Hannah, I leave a steak. To Jenne Glish, I leave an erotic pizza boy. To Peter Folk, I leave a really nice fork, knife, spoon, plate, cup, and emacs tutorial, a hearty hug, and a bail-bondsmen's phone number. To David Young, I leave my flashlight and mirror to manually trace rays with and a psychedelic school bus with a full tank. To Gian-Polo, I leave my copies of all 5 of the Phalcon/Skism virus tutorials, nuke.c, and juju.c to right the injustices on the Information Superhypeway. To David Beedy, I leave a hug a non-safety kitchen match for our note cards. To Andy Nicholson, I leave my life's dream of being a blimp pilot. To Megan R-A, I leave my entire Ministry collection. To Andrew Reynolds, I leave a hug, a pack of cards, and a truckload of spray paint. Finally, to Ben Scott, I leave all the bigness in the world.

I, Nasri Hajj, do hereby grant the following boons. The Cross Country teams shall receive prowess in competition beyond that of mortal teams. The Track and Field team shall likewise be granted such puissance. I call plague and famine and flame upon to those who have brought irritation to visit Me. I grant a chimpanzee and a power drill to Chris Gorski, to aid in his quest for the elusive squick. And finally, to My brother, I leave the consideration and understanding of My peers. Wait, I can't find it. Sod off, you twitchy gits.

I, Amanda Isaacson, leave to Amanda Smeltzer, some elbows bonier than hers and a 6'6" freshman to block all her shots. To Anne-Marie, I leave a zillion more clothes and a really fine lifeguard. To Christina, a 29 gear shift park-job, a glass that's too full for her, Famous Amos chocolate chip cookies, and my face framers. To Bridget, a ride home, IHOP pancakes, a la quada, and a trip to Heather's house. To Jamey, I leave jack, to Audrey, a mouthful of bloody spit and a You *-up! Finally to Bridge and Chris, I leave a fine, male servant at the Olive Garden.

I, James Alan Johnson, do hereby bequeath the following: to Anand I leave the tenor section (if his voice doesn't change); to Bob and Russell I leave the joy of lighting and miles of the infamous Duct Tape, without which the show could not continue; to Joy I leave an uncircumcised penis she can see; to Lydia I leave my etiquette and love; to Chris Tsay I leave the ability to read music and a rubber chicken; to Carolyn I leave those stupid nicknames Jenne gave her and a lot of fun with drama; to all who want it, I leave all of my dipped crust; to all the Thespians, I leave our wonderful plays and all the fun that goes with it; to all aspiring musicians, I leave Dave's rule of three; to everyone else I say have fun with the rest of your high school life; it's not worth getting stressed out over.

I, Sari Karplus, hereby leave to Alison Leff the Thespians and all our play traditions, also, a big hug and a bizarre guy story. To Susan Rempe, I leave a fun play and a blind power ride. I leave Mr. Jaber all my stories. To Barbara Ridenour, I leave the Zen Garden – may it continue to be a place of creation, fun, and great entertainment. To Lydia, my fellow Scorpion, I leave a golden paintbrush, hairbrush, and hammer – things any crew Goddess would need. I, also, leave a fun filled trip to True Value. Finally, to Zach H. I give the finger – it is known to improve reading skills.

I, Asako Kinase-Leggett, being of questionably sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath, in my first will and testament: to my teachers and the school counselors, gratitude and my thanks for putting up with my insanity for so long; to my parents, the same, and my college tuition bills for the next four years, as well as lots of love and any fame and fortune I might acquire. To Lydia, I leave a game of Sonic the Hedgehog and a ride once (if ever) I get my license; to Ali. O. , the loan of any photos of "England" and a kick-butt senior year at UHS; to Sam Sutton, a risque photo of Hugh Grant for the G room; to Noura, an evil sketch of a certain newspaper editor; to the flutie-dudies (all 8 of them), I leave a future without Star Wars and the first flute's chair; to Allison and Kathleen, a wonderful, Unique year; to Mr. Murphy, a real baton; to Mrs. Newman, a fond "vale"; to Mrs. Bant, anything I might get published - or else; and to Mr. Sutton and Mrs. Fuller - thanks. Finally, to all my senior buddies, an apology - I would need a whole book for all of you - but I leave all of you a hug, a stupid joke, and memories and friendship. To everyone I've ever known and liked, a big smile and this school, long may it be a Unique place, full of fun and laughter (and occasional learning).

Me, myself, and I (but you can call me Hannah) would like to leave some stuff. To Cindy, a secret, a hat way up high, and the biggest hug that ya ever did see. To Dave B. a credit card and a checking account (cuz I know you'll need'em). To Andrew I leave a big wall to climb and decorate. To Megan, a kumquat. To Peter, a Road Trip, and to James, a giggle and a ride home. To Seth I leave an A for the year. To Jeff, a really good compliment. To Emma, my super-cool sister, I leave Finnegan and all my love. To Rishi I leave a collage, and to Dave A. I leave someone to play the top. I leave Gargoyle my headlines, and Yearbook...well, I leave Yearbook. To Mr. Murphy go my 'green shoes', and to Ms. Hellyer, her very own Angel, a laugh, and a power lunch at Joe's Brewery. To Mr. Stone, 'my' stone fly and a live turkey to cook. To Randy I leave a sincere thank you – you're the only one I let mispronounce my name. Bye-bye everyone.

I, Sang Lee, say see ya to the P.E. department (ha ha ha) : I leave to Usama Art and remember, I can fly: and to Robert Frasier I leave a big hunk o' rain forest and ginseng gum to boost your you know. . . and lastly to all you underclassmen, I leave this bit of wisdom from Fugazi, "Life is what you want it to be so don't get tangled up trying to be free and don't worry what the other people see its nothing." bye-bye!

I, Andy Leibovich, leave this shit to people. Jon, a ride home and a trey, to Steve, pepper spray for protection against the ladies, to Yunny a better excuse than bronchitis, to Gene a red and a philosophical conversation. I leave Bridget whatever shes looking for, to Chavez I leave a bowl of Lucky Charms, to Damian a post game report and prop waiting, to Iceman I leave a once proud free throw tradition, to Slyder and jersey #23 a spot in the FSU backfield. Rosa gets my goal of three years and a triple off the wall, I leave Danilo the Rainman my ability to talk shit, to Nina I leave a day without embarrassment, to Anne-Marie a book of dirty jokes and a graphic dictionary, Suman, a blowpop, a game of goal, and an asswhoopin'. To Ted a toebash and a fuck to give, to James a pair of Mike D's underwear to do with what he wishes.

I, Lilly Liu, of sound mind and body, hereby will to Charlotte a pair of silk chocolate colored drawstring wide-leg pants and a fake ID. To Wenlan I leave gabillions of Lois and Clark episodes. I will Sang a courdoroy stuffed car and a million gallons of gas. To Daniel K. I leave lots of groupies; and to Ruxandra a life time supply of CD's and infusium. To Doug, I leave some cheerfulness, the thought "we're outta here!" and a full size pool table. I leave Sammy a much happier big brother. To Sapna a job as summer intern on the set of a Denzel movie and to Asako Hugh Grant movies. I leave Joyce my appreciation for Dean Cain movies, and some coffee from the Union machine. To Sophie I will a billion hypothetical questions, the guy in Maryland, an S-class Mercedes and a week stay at the Ritz. To Ellen I leave the hope that Russell Wong isn't gay, someone's face to pinch, a dress-renting agency and a non-asshole guy. To Sophie, Ellen, and Joyce, all our memories of the people we obsessed over, the dumb and fun things we've done. To my debate group the hope that things won't turn out too hopelessly. Finally, I leave Uni a lot of money and some great years ahead.

I, Jani Miles, hereby will to my swimming buddy Megan Flynn a hot French guy and thanks for getting me through all those tough workouts. To Adam and Sandeep I leave bodyfat so you don't feel left out. To Christina I leave German Club and the responsibility of finding Herr W. To Bridget and Chandra a ride to swimming and the promise that you will never again have to deal with my 5:30 a.m. mood. To Tim Monahan I leave a phone call whenever you need to talk and a romantic date in Murphy's truck. And to Al I leave my thanks and appreciation for ten years of coaching!

I, Nola Miller leave Yunny memories of a great summer and the horn to my VW bug. To Dan Murphy, I leave my Carleton hat and to Jonathon a big hug. I leave Genia a day without spazzing, Steve N. a suction cup, and Samantha S. good luck and a stress-free Gargoyle issue. To Claire I leave the 4th hour chorus and to Mr. Murphy I leave a big Thankyou. To the swim team and Al I leave some extra plates and a green pepper and to Katie Braden a ride to practice and a new lane buddy. I leave the basketball team some basketballs that aren't 100 years old. I leave Christina some hot college guys, Bridget socks & sports bras, Anne-Marie a fetal pig and a smile. I leave lots of luck to Amy Coombe, Nina, Megan Murphy, and the Smeltzanator. I leave my family lots of love and Audrey to carry on 4 more years of Millers.

I, Tim Monahan, would like to leave the following people the following things: a winning season and less running to Varsity B-ball; to Amy C., a ride home and someone to talk to; an even better lounge to future students; zu Herr W, mein Bruedern und kurze Deutsche Geschichte; peace in Mozambique to Danilo; defense of Notre Dame sports to Thomas S. and Bridget; a trip to Culver to Jon W.; the weekly announcements on the Lounge Board to Damian; a sincere apology to all of my teachers for being late to class every once in a while; and peace to anyone that I argued with over Notre Dame. Thanks for everything.

I, Gian-Paolo Musumeci, being of sound body and ... well ... in any case, do hereby bequeath a pack of Mike E. Loeb to Brent, an entry for "oops" in the Dictionary of Professional Terms to the '93 SuperQuest team, a cow that has either udders or horns to Dave Young, another bag to JVDB (one of hers will break eventually, right?), and an extra-large bottle of Tylenol to Coach Smeltzer for those migraines (which I probably helped cause). To Dr. Newman, a lot of help for eating all the pudding we produced in translations. For everyone else, I wish upon you threefold all that you wished upon me in these last five years.

To all groovy people I (George Petrov) leave a lot of LOVE and PEACE. Drake gets to be good with "that action" & lots of games of pool on me. Thayer-two tickets to Chicago Symphony. Tim, my home is always yours-with lots of milk & good food, see you this summer-my phone in Sofia is 599464. Megan, dinner at my house. To Anna I leave the spring mist, the fall thunder & all the pretty clouds. Dave, BON, you draaapped something. May Ms. Hellyer have the most visited Home Page. My deepest thanks to Mr. B. & Mrs. Laughlin for the grooviest & most memorable classes on both sides of the Atlantic.

I, Andrew Reynolds, do leave a sturdy ladder, Prozac, and local anesthetic to Anand. To Russell, I leave a banana, and to Megan R-A, I leave a flying carpet from Madman Omar's House o' Rugs.

I, Megan Robin-Abbott leave nothing but a big whopping kiss to all here. Take it as you will.

I, Lindsey Schmidt, leave Anne-Marie a big smile, some puppy chow, lots of candy, and a afternoon rollerblading. To Yunny I leave a rocking night out, a blacklight, and a super lizard. I give Christina a rendition of "I touch you once, I touch you twice", Bridget a whole bunch of three pointers that she'll make next year, and to both of them I give a dinner at the Olive Garden with a really fine waiter (servant) and 5 desserts we can all share. To Leetle Murphy I leave the clarinet section. To Joy I give an eighties dance where you can stun all the subbies with your suave moves. Good luck to UHGB team- rule on. I leave the library some awesome help next year, a microfiche machine, and some extra space. Finally, thank you to the teachers that taught with extra enthusiasim which actually made learning fun! Good luck Uni!

In the untimely event of my graduation, I Ben Scott, will to these lowly underclassmen the following choice items: to Edwin Ramos I will a desk to bang on in his fits of orgasmic frenzy upon correctly answering questions; to Gene Sverdlov I will a nice handy book with ten sheets in it, a case of pop-tarts, and a '81 Chevy Citation minus one transmission; to the junior class I will luck in their pitiful little lives now that the seniors are gone.

I, Mae Siffin, being of sound mind and body, do bequeath the following things, to Jamie: his own classroom where he can annoy only himself; To Jenny, a gorgeous guy on a dashing black steed; to Sarah, some cloves; to Dan M, a girlfriend named George; to Mason, an extra foot for that dunk; to Tim, many pencils; to Shawn, a very large clock; to Barb, a day when no one skips class; to Mr. Jaber, better luck with cars next time; to Mrs. Djemil and Mrs. Newman, a more cooperative class; and to Ms. Micele, more letters of recommendation!! And lastly, to Eli, I leave a lifetime supply of easy cheese.

I, Tim Skirvin, being of ill mind and weak body, hereby do leave these wonderful items to ya'll. To Iggy the Iguana, I leave a brand new heat lamp, to warm you up on those chilly winter mornings. To Rob, I leave the duty to ride the 7:24 AM bus: someone's got to do it. To the first who cares to take it, I leave the "essence of underclassity;" do with it what you will. To next years subs, I leave my place in the lounge; kill those traditions! To the denizens of the kitchen, I leave a few decks of cards, strategically placed on tabletops. To the denizens of the lounge, I leave the television, to be watched without red during your times of greatest boredom. Finally, to everyone at Uni, I leave these final words: good luck, have a wonderful life, and don't forget the good times you've had here, eh?

I, Douglas Sohn, being of sound mind and body leave to Edwin a "Hey Edwin". To Danilo I leave a ride home. To Tommy I leave some Korean words and a "popo". To Jeff K. some more secret hand signals to use with Tommy. To Matt C. I leave a better youth group teacher and a better time in church. To Damian I leave the knowledge that the Cubs will be World Champions someday. To Ellen and Lilly I leave my brother and some "boolgoki". To Jeff T., Peter F., and Cindy I leave my thanks for being there to talk to when I needed it. To the office staff I leave a big thanks for making my stay at Uni that bit better. To my teachers I leave my thanks for bearing with me for five years at this school. Finally I leave to my brother, Sammy, my love, my confidence in you, and the knowledge that you will succeed in whatever you do.

I, Joyce Tang, do hereby will to Ms. Fuller, Alison Leff and Kathleen the best of luck with future Uniques!! I leave to Amy Coombe many smiles and the Little Buttercup song, to Lydia, Rachel R. and Thayer, a hug and a good luck during their last year at Uni, and to Robert F. a thank you for convincing me that I wanted to go to Hong Kong. I leave to Sapna many happy study sessions, to Sophie, lots of red and orange in her future, to Lilly and Ruxandra a ride home with a not so safe driver (me!), to Cindy, so many years of memories and picnic on a perfect day, to Ellen, all the food I ever stole from her, and to David Asher, I leave a pack of Saltines. To Sari, I leave a dress for each that I borrowed, to Wenlan, one last 7th hour of watching entertaining college videos, to Michelle S. the perfect duet, to Asako, a stress free week and lots of memories of PE and pettuties! And to Sang, I leave a night of driving around aimlessly, wishing someplace besides Steak 'n Shake or Perkins was open. To everyone at Uni, I leave a lot of thanks, a bunch of smiles, and the very best of luck!!! I'll miss you all!!

I, Jeff Thorn, leave a grin and a shake to anybody who cares. To Hormozd, I leave a "Big Dog." To Emma, I leave a sly wink in the hallway. To Jeff Kang, the Future of Uni High Soccer (morbid as it may seem). To Claire, a whole day without even one annoying comment. To Dam, I leave a voice that lasts a whole game, and a lotta spirit. To Mr. Turner, a shot in the back. To everyone at Uni (especially JC, BA, RL, DS, LB, RM), an understanding (just between you and me) about Uni; it must hurt to be so good.

I, Sophie Wahba, of sound mind and body, hereby will to Maryam clips for the decline bech and a Belgian guy. To Nils, a snowball fight, Matt Wilhelm a big smile and Christine Keller the gymnast of her choice and to Rob B., the best of luck at Uni.

I, Cindy Wang, do hereby leave Matt Wilhelm a great big hello and some cows, Nikkia a state championship, Anne-Marie Cziko a good horoscope to get excited over and a hug, Shawn her mix tape, Damian and Chris Garcia a nice quiet stud co., Adam R. a free day on Feb 18., little Schrepfer a loud School Song, to George two 45's, Gorski a few good jokes, Eman Jassim a big smile, Hormodz a snake shirt, Audrey a trip to Steak and Shake, a blowtorch to burn down Colorado Steak House, the college of her choice, never having to meet bitch 1 and bitch 2 in the future, and finally someone to live down the street, Bonnie thanks and an extra large track and CC teams in the future, Randy, Barb and Cathy for enduring me, Lisa a big thanks, Ms. Fuller a long talk, Murph kids that get along and the administration a big thanks for putting up with everything. Five years at Uni and I am outta here!

I, Ellen Yang, being of sound mind and body, hereby will Sophie a Mercedes 500 SL, a fairytale life with her Egyptian second cousin, and many more heart dropping songs; to Sapna I leave another long hot summer night (look at the time!); to Joyce, a beep from my car horn and many more morning bus rides; to Megan F., the newest de-pouffing technique — your hair looks great, girl!; to Lindsey and Amanda, the wonderful memories of playing Euchre and a butt-alarm; to Sang, I leave a long relaxing vacation so she get away from baby-sitting and work; to Wenlan, her dream date with Tom Cruise; to Charlotte I leave a M.A.C. taupe lipstick; to Michelle, I leave a big shovel to dig her way out of the snow; to Doug, I leave a shrink, a whole day at the mall, and a thousand smiles; to Lydia W., I leave a knee brace; to Mrs. Laughlin, I leave a 5 course dinner prepared by my mom; to Lilly, I leave nothing less than my deepest thanks for her friendship throughout the years; finally, to Uni High – all my teachers, the office staff (especially Barb), and my counselors, my sincere gratitude for guiding me through an unforgettable 5 years. I'll miss you all, best wishes in the future.

I took a piece of living clay
And gently formed it day by day
And molded it with power and art
A young child's soft and yielding heart

I came again when years were gone
It was a man I looked upon,
He still that early impress bore
And I could change that form no more.

Thank you Uni high faculty, support staff, administrators, and students for your positive influence on those around you.

These past few years have given us warm memories, good friends, and an excellent foundation for our son, Brent's, future.

Best wishes to the class of 1995.

As Uni has soared into vast new dimensions of academic and social aspirations, both students and faculty are encouraged and excited with the promise of future success in the school functions. The most exalting part of the 1994-1995 Uni school year was that we just had fun.

BUH-BYE!!

A long, long time ago. I could still remember how the music used to make me smile and I knew if I had my chance, I could make those people dance, and maybe they'd be happy for a while.

So bye bye Miss American Pie
Drove my Chevy to the levee but the levee was dry
Them good ol' boys were drinking whiskey and rye
Singing this will be the day that i die,
This will be the day that i die.

Let's get to the point
Let's roll another joint
Turn the radio loud
I'm too alone to be proud
You don't know how it feels
You don't know how it feels
To be me.

It was a teenage wedding and the old folks wished them well
You could see that Pierre did truly love the mademoiselle...
C'est la vie, say the old folks, it goes to show you never can tell.

I feel good da na na na na na na
I knew that I would da na na na na na na
So good! da da
So good! da
I got you! da na na na!

Rubber Ducky, you're the one,
you make bathtime lots of fun
Rubber Ducky you're my very best friend indeed!

Stop! Collaborate and listen
Ice is back with a brand new invention
Something grabs a hold of me tightly
Flows like a harpoon daily and nightly will it ever stop, Yo! I don't know turn off the lights and I'll glow to the extreme I rock the mike like a vandal
Light up the stage and wax the chump like a candle

It's time to move on
Time to get goin
what lies ahead
I have no way of knowin
but under my feet, baby grass is growin time to move on,
time to get goin.

Here comes Johnny singing
oldies goldies
Babaluba baby what I say
Here comes Johnny singing I got a woman
Down in the tunnel trying to make it pay
He's got the action, he's got the motion
Oh yeah the boy can play
Dedication, devotion
Turning on the night lights into the day.

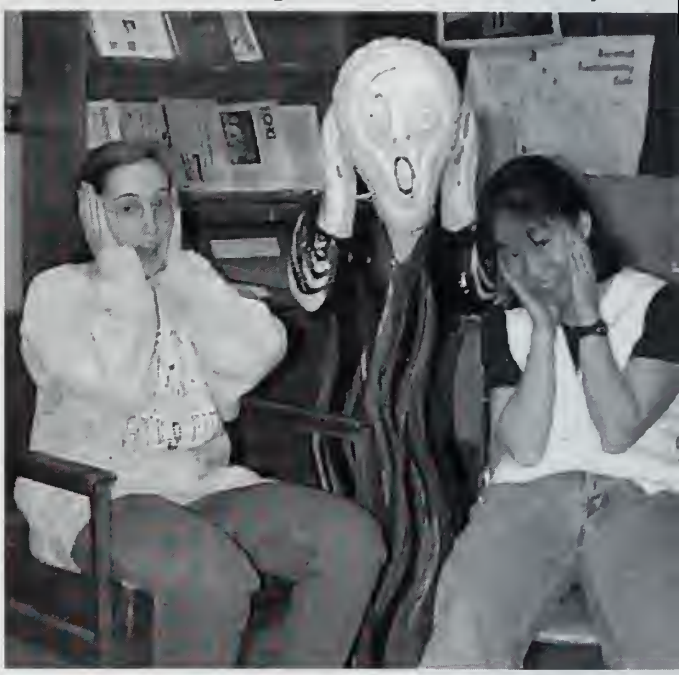
Basically, I'm all tuckered out. Thanks to Mr. Smeltzer, the office staff, the great yearbook staff, and the Agora Days yearbook staff. You guys are great! Finally...Hank, three years and we are done. Let us g off into the sunset, with a baked potato and the wonderful thought that we will never have to know person named Bob again. COLLEGE! ---Cindy



I'd like to thank the Academy, the director of this wonderful production, Mike Smeltzer, and my co-star Cindy. I also woul like to add one thing...without all of the little people (Peter, James, Dave A, Dave B, Andrew, Megan, Jeff) I would never have gotten the chance to be up here. Thank you so very much I'm glad you liked what we all worked so hard on. I'd like to sa hi to my family – hi Emma! – and to my crew. Randy, Barb, Cathy, Hellyer...it wouldn't have been possible without you. I can't leave without thanking the powers that be for believing in us when things were looking down, so thank you. Thank you again, all you beautiful people. – Hannah

Hey, how ya doin?

Well here I am the new kid on the block, but I am also the oldest kid. I inherited two seasoned editors, and proceeded to change their entire way of producing a yearbook. They survived and created a handsome book along the way. If you are reading these words and it is before the 4th of July, then everything worked out, or else we got the electronic HTML edition done in record time. Thanks to Shelley, Audrey, Marilyn and Karen for their support and to Uni's Student Council for their investment in the technology that made this book and th new Gargoyle possible. I will miss the seniors, especiall since they don't bowl very well. Hank and Cindy leave big shoes to fill - well actually in Cindy's case small shoes, but fast ones. Next year's book will miss Hank's photos. The accompanying photo of the second best guard in the NBA is for Amanda, who now will never lose this book. - Coach
